

COMMENTS BY READER 1

(For the approval of the Doctor of Ministry Degree at San Francisco Theological Seminary)
The reader/evaluator is anonymous.

“This dissertation should be circulated to all the pastors, church administrators, denominational executives and lay leaders. Courses should be taught in adult forums, classes, workshops, and seminars. I would suggest the development of a syllabus for classes on the Mission of the Church or the Nature of and Mission of the Church. There is an urgent need for our local churches to restructure their theology of mission as well as study the life and ministry of Jesus..... After reading Jean Kim’s dissertation, I must confess that I have been deeply convicted regarding some of the omissions in my personal ministry. She is on the right track and I believe this is the need for today. Most of us have been victims and captives of the Euro-Western cultural Christianity and church model that we are in need for reconceiving and reconstructing our theology as well as our church patterns.” I highly commend Jean Kim for her thesis and recommend her for the degree that she is pursuing.

Reader 1.
2005